

Hi Ladies,

So far, a pretty quiet week. The weather is getting colder and it is beginning to feel more like the Holidays. We have an interesting game this week – five blind holes. At the end of play, Travis will pick five holes that will be used to determine the total for the game and prize money will be allocated based on three flights, gross scores only. You will not know when you are playing what holes count so you need to keep your full score on every hole. Any handicap adjustments will be made by the Handicap committee for posting. It should be interesting to see the results! We do try to post the results by Monday or Tuesday of the following week both outside the pro shop and on the website.

As previously mentioned, according to our by-law's membership fees are due by December 1. Our application does say December 15 as a courtesy but that is the absolute last day as we have to pay the AGA for our handicaps and they will assess a $5 late fee to our club for everyone who's handicap is paid late. To date we have 97 members of which 25 are new. We also have a few who have yet to pay so we are anticipating around 110 members this year. How exciting!

Please note, any member who had a birdie last year, your birdie pin is in the back room of the pro shop in an envelope with your name. Also, if you have a birdie this year put your name on the sheet in the back room.

Next week is our Christmas party, ugly sweater contest. I have from a pretty good source that Santa will be sending an elf to give the "nice niners" a little gift, so you still have time to be "nice" not "naughty".

That's all for now, see you Thursday. And our drink of the day is a fuzzy navel.

Quote of the week: (I can relate) "Missing a short putt does not mean you have to hit your next drive out of bounds." —Henry Cotton
